BRUTAL BANDITS CUT MEN'S THROATS

Who Had Kindly Given Them a Ride to "Catch Train"—Horrible Crime Near Oakdale

Trainmen on the Southern railway who spent last night in Oakdale, Tenn., report a horrible tragedy near that place upon their arrival here today, said Wednesday's Danville Advocate.

Four bandits who had planned to rob the State Bank at Oakdale hired an automobile near Clinton, and Andrew Crumley and George A. Lewis were in the car. Crumley being the driver and Lewis having gone along for the ride. The four men who hired the automobile claimed they wished to catch a train at Oakdale.

However, before arriving at Oakdale, at a point where there was a dense thicket, the two men were overpowered by the four bandits and taken into a thicket and tied to a tree. After being tied with ropes, which the four men carried in a grip, the bandits slashed the throats of Lewis and Crumley. Lewis was killed. Crumley feigned death and both men were left for dead.

The knife missed Crumley's jugular vein and although he was unable to cut the ropes and release himself. After finding that Lewis was dead, Crumley walked some distance to a farm house and related his frightful experience. The four bandits had proceeded toward Oakdale and while they were tying the two men they were overheard to say that they were going to rob the Oakdale bank.

Crumley succeeded in having the bank officials notified at Oakdale before he collapsed from loss of blood. This morning a telephone message from Oakdale said that Crumley is in a dangerous condition and probably will not recover. When the officers and bank officials arrived at the Oakdale bank after receiving notice two of the bandits had gained entrance to the building while the other two remained in the automobile. When the officers arrived the two in the automobile fled and made their escape while the two in the bank were surrounded and paced in jail at Harriman, Tenn. They gave their names as John McClure, of Detroit, Mich., and Charley Petree, of Harriman. Sentiment became so high against the two men that they had to be removed to Knoxville for safe keeping. They had not succeeded in entering the money vaults of the bank and the bank sustained no loss save a broken window. The two men who were arrested confessed and gave the names of the two confederates who escaped.

AUTOIST KILLED BY ANOTHER DRIVER

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Ky., June 2—This section is being scoured today for Waller P. Stamp, a Louisville real estate dealer, charged with shooting and killing W. Smith Russell, a painter, and wounding Mrs. Russell here last night. The Russells befriended Mrs. Stamp, who left her husband several days ago. An operation on Mrs. Russell today is expected to save her life but probably she will lose an eye. Mrs. Stamp today said she had long endured her husband's ill treatment. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stith, reside at Sonora, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell were driving south on Third street, a few blocks from their home when a man in another car drove slowly up to the machine occupied by the Russells and emptied his revolver at them. Two of the bullets struck Russell in the neck severing a jugular vein.

One of the bullets penetrated Mrs. Russell's left eye. Russell's six-year-old daughter, Catherine, seated in the runabout with her father and mother, escaped the hail of bullets. The assassin, after shooting his victims sped away.

Little Catherine's version of the affair was that her father's dayer drove up from behind and "oming abreast with the Russells" he leaned from his own machine trying "You've ruined my home and opened fire."

BROTHER OF LOCAL MAN WINS MARSHAL

Roy Williams, of Jackson, to Succeed Henry Cox—Sam Collins Given a "Dry" Job

A Washington dispatch says that Roy Blaine Williams, of Jackson, Breathitt county, has been recommended by Senator Ernst, for appointment as Marshal for the Eastern District of Kentucky. He will succeed Henry M. Cox, of West Liberty.

Mr. Williams is a twin brother of Reed Williams, of this city, and has many friends who will welcome him when he comes to Federal court here. He won out for the Marshalship after the hottest kind of a fight waged by Congressman Langley for Sam Collins, of Whitesburg. Mr. Collins was switched to Prohibition Enforcement Officer and thus the matter was settled. Mr. Williams had powerful support for his ambition. He is a half-brother, it is understood of M. L. Crain, of Jackson, who was a delegate to the Chicago convention, and an original Harding man. Mr. Crain voted for Harding for the nomination from first to last, and his influence helped Williams land the good place.

Besides Collins and Williams there was one other applicant for marshal from the eastern district—Joseph Spears, of Catlettsburg. There were six applicants for the position of director—Rory Huntman, of Scottsville; Judge Yancy Lytle, Manchester; Thomas Ballard, Lawrenceburg; Dr. L. A. Crutcher, Louisville; John Hardwick, Winchester, and Ben Hall, Mt. Sterling.

Transfer of the office from Paul Williams to Mr. Collins will be made as soon as Mr. Collins' appointment is confirmed by the Senate.

Formal announcement also was made of the recommendation of Judge McKinzie Moss, of Bowling Green, to be United States Attorney for the western district of Sawyer Smith, of Barbourville, for the same office in the eastern district. The President is expected to act on the recommendations within the next few days.

The First Christians gained revenge on the Presbyterians for their only defeat of the season, through an overwhelming victory of 17 to 3, on the Normal field Wednesday. For the first two innings the game looked to be a tight one but the slaughter began in the third when the Campbellites scored five runs. The Presbyterian star pitcher, Arnold Hanger, was out of town and they missed him. Millard, the crack center fielder of the First Christian nine, was unable to perform on account of a bad ankle.

Southpaws seemed to be in style yesterday, three of the pitchers throwing from that side of the slab. Neff pitched a steady game and received good support. He had the Presbyterians in his hand and squeezed them at will. Keith pitched the best game for the Presbyterians holding his opponents to five hits and two runs in the last four innings.

Jennings made a fine running catch of W. Crutcher's foul in the fifth inning. Lackey and Oldham played fine ball in the field. The First Christians infield has shown itself to be one of the most dependable in the league.

The Presbyterians threatened to score two or three runs in the last of the ninth, but the rally was cut short when Neff tightened up. In this inning Hutchins led off with one of his perfect bunts. Telford fled out to Turkey. Hutchins took second on pinch hitter C. Crutcher's drive to the box, which was too hot to handle. Bob Burnam fled out to Oldham. Bill Crutcher advanced each runner with a hit over short. This rally was cut short when Hackett sent an easy roller to the box and the First Christians went into undisputed leadership of the league.
